

Minjae Yun

Lowe Institute of Political Economy
Claremont McKenna College
888 Columbia Ave
Claremont, CA 91711

minjae.yun@cmc.edu
 |  |

EXPERIENCE

---

Claremont McKenna College Assistant Director, Lowe Institute of Political Economy	2023–Present Claremont, CA
UCLA Law School Postdoctoral Researcher, Empirical Research Group	2022–2023 Los Angeles, CA

EDUCATION

---

Ph.D. in Economics Claremont Graduate University Dissertation: Three Essays in Law and Economics Committee: Gregory DeAngelo (Chair), Eric Helland, Melissa Rogers	2022 Claremont, CA
M.A. in Economics Claremont Graduate University	2019 Claremont, CA
M.A. in Behavioral Socioeconomics Ewha Womans University	2016 Seoul, South Korea
B.A. in Economics Ewha Womans University	2014 Seoul, South Korea

RESEARCH INTERESTS

---

Law and Economics & Economics of Crime & Applied Microeconomics

My research focuses on understanding the behavioral mechanisms within the legal system, exploring the role of shared beliefs in supporting societal norms. Additionally, I aim to dissect the causes and consequences of public policy decisions.

PEER-REVIEWED PUBLICATIONS

---

Helland, Eric, and Minjae Yun. 2023. “More Talk, Less Conflict: Evidence from Requiring Informal Discovery Conferences.” American Law and Economics Review, 25(1), 129–189.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

---

Sander, Richard, Minjae Yun, Carolyn Kuhl, Henry Kim, Jacob Kemp, Richard Fruin, and Eric Helland. 2023. “Methods for Assessing Civil Justice Reform: The Case of “Meet and Confer” Requirements for California Demurrers.” RAND Conference Proceeding.

UNDER REVIEW

---

Yun, Minjae, Anson Bouchard, and Cameron Shelton. “Domestic Violence and the 2020 US Presidential Election.”

Helland, Eric, and Minjae Yun. “Nixing the Judge: Peremptory Challenges of Judges and Strategic Behavior.”

WORK-IN-PROGRESS

---

Yun, Minjae. “Criminal Decarceration Policies and the Effect on Community Safety.”

Lee, Soomi and Minjae Yun. “Identifying Effective Programs to Exit Homelessness: A System-wide Perspective Using Machine Learning.”

DeAngelo, Greg, and Minjae Yun. “Law Enforcement Leadership, Tenure & Jail Overcrowding.”

Yun, Minjae and Jieun Lee. “Parametrically Measuring Geographical, Temporal, and Socioeconomic Spillover Effects among Street Crime and Homelessness in Los Angeles.”

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

---

North American Meetings of the Regional Science Association International	2023, 2024
Conference on Empirical Legal Studies	2022
American Society for Public Administration	2022
Association for Public Policy Analysis &amp; Management	2022
Spring Conference on Empirical Legal Studies	2022
Public Choice Society (Canceled due to COVID-19)	2020
Endogenous Rules, Risk & Legal Institutions Workshop	2020
QuantLaw - University of Arizona Law	2020
Conference on Empirical Legal Studies ( Poster Session )	2019

FELLOWSHIPS

---

Blais Challenge Stipend for Claremont Intercollegiate Collaborations ($22,290)	2020
Criminal Justice Reform Fellowship ($16,000)	2019
Graduate School Award for Dissertation with Highest Honors	2016

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

---

Instructor

Claremont Graduate University

2023 Fall
Claremont, CA

- Causal Modeling, Big Data, and Machine Learning (graduate level)

Teaching Assistant

Claremont Graduate University

2020 Fall
Claremont, CA

- Programming for Economists (graduate level)

Teaching Assistant

Ewha Womans University

2016 Spring
Seoul, Korea

- Korean Financial Market (undergraduate level)

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIP

---

Western Regional Science Association

INSTITUTIONAL AFFILIATIONS

---

California Center for Population Research, UCLA

SERVICE

---

Referee, Journal of Poverty and Social Justice

2023

Referee, Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice

2023

SKILLS

---

Programming: Python, STATA, R, Qualtrics and SQL

Languages: English (fluent) and Korean (native)